Links of the last days

Okay, i'm not in the office ... well ... for a few days, and the world goes mad: Free Oracle Licences for bigger Sun systems. Okay, we have to wait for the exact rules, but this will be a hard punch for the competition.

The financial world seems to gain confidence in Sun. The stock surged on friday:

We're unaware of any rumors floating around that would precipitate such a rush on Sun shares. Although, it appears that a large Sun investor is making some serious moves..

At last: Good report about the early days at sun
