

Wednesday, May 17, 2006

Colms benchmark in the big press news.com reports about Colms Benchmarks on the T2000. Most interesting comment from Colm cited in the article: The Niagara servers only consumed about 220 watts while the Itanium sucked up 400 watts. "We were kind of surprised about the power consumption" on the T2000, he said. "I thought maybe my power meter wasn't working."

Posted by Joerg Moellenkamp in English, Oracle at 05:04