

Wednesday, January 31, 2007

Good things - bad things

Good thing: The approach directly from south on runway 33 of the airport in Hamburg is really nice. When have the left window seat, you have a great view to the harbour and the river/lake Alster.

(Oh ... that was the LH060 from Munich)

Bad thing: I live directly beneath the approach of runway 33. It's not loud but a little bit annoying today ...

(Well, that was the 4U7083 from Munich, too)

Posted by Joerg Moellenkamp in Business Travel, English at 22:15