

Sunday, March 25. 2007

Solaris Basic Service Plan - Community Edition?

The problems around the underpatched Solaris installation www.planet3dnw.de portal lead me to an idea: What's about a free Solaris Basic Service Plan for community websites as barter trade? The community websites get free access to all patches in return for a small badge at the website "powered by Sun Solaris" at a prominent place as long the website is and stays a non-profit community page. Would be a good solution for sites who don't want to use OpenSolaris out of some reasons. I think i will discuss this topic internally ...

Posted by Joerg Moellenkamp in English, Solaris at 18:38

I heard it through the grapevine: http://www.heise.de/newsticker/foren/go.shtml?read=1&msg_id=12476517&forum_id=114715
Anonymous on Mar 28 2007, 18:21