

Friday, September 28, 2007

Infoworld about Sun Blade 6000

Infoworld did an really positive review about the Sun Blade 6000 Modular Server in "Sun's newest server: Dynamite comes in small packages": Overall, however, testing across the three blade architectures showed solid performance at every level, and the quad-core Intel blades are obviously perfect for virtualization. Paul, wait for the UltraSPARC T2 based balde ... this will be real dynamite

Posted by Joerg Moellenkamp at 07:14