I need $1,440,800 ... fast ...

Bugatti Veyron at top speedby Flabber

Working for motor magazines must be one of those dream jobs ... and driving a Bugatti Veyron at Top Speed looks like good compensation for testing such reasonable, but boring cars like a Toyota Prius or a Skoda Octavia

"This is Germany. There are procedures to go through." - Wonderful.

I've personally done 260km/h already, but I wonder if the banked turn at 200 is as scary as it looks.

Just for your Info .

What fuel dos it need? SuperPlus? 1,50€/l....the car need on full speed up to 1l/km - 100l/100km. 120l and the car stand still after 12min....but i could be nice if you passing a Bugatti hanging behind a ADAC Car g with your Octavia. Here in FFM was a Apollo Gumpert...also a very nice car, extreme fast and not cheap enough for me

Hmmm...with a hanging head im going to my mondeo *gÜ
