Weekend

Back from Toulouse ... i've used the two hours in the plane for writing some notes about it. I had a really good weekend. The inner city of Toulouse on Friday. Saturday i've visited Biarritz and San Sebastian. Sunday was filled by a trip to Andorra and Barcelona. I'm full of impressions now. And i was able to store only a few of them in photos.

Driving to the capital of Andorra by using the Pas de la Casa is especially impressive. You have an impressive view on the surrounding mountains.

Andorra la Vella was somewhat disappointing for me (in regard of the planed purpose). It seems that size of shoes above a german 44 are unknown. Cheap shoes are nice, but they should fit at least.

Okay, from there we drove to Spain and ahead to Barcelona. Barcelona is a great city, but i need some more time there. I saw only a minimum of the city (La Rambla and the Curch of La Sagrada Familia ... and a little bit of the harbour). At least i was able to buy my 13th Starbucks collectors mug yesterday (everybody needs a strange thing to collect).

I will post some photos in the next few days.

Ja, der Weg duch die Pyrenäen ist schon einmalig schön und voller schöner Momente...

Yep Barcelelona ist schon MUY FANTASTICO. Allerdings haettest Du dir noch das Airbus-Werk in Tolusse ansehen sollen. Dagegen wirkt XFW wie eine Puppenfabrik.

Ich war zwar nicht in der Fabrik, aber an der Fabrik ... die Hallen wirken schon gigantisch ... vielleicht das naechste Mal, wenn ich meine Freunde da besuche das sollten wir dann hinbekommen, beim nächsten mal es ist schon imposant was hier steht und wie gigantisch das so ist, aber lass dich überraschen...
