

Friday, May 22. 2009

New Itanium rumour

Intel is rumoured to force HP away from Itanium by using their new half-centimetre process technology for their Tukwila. At least a photo published by a really trustworthy news site suggest such a move. So the next Superdome has ... well ... the size of a dome.

Posted by Joerg Moellenkamp in English, The IT Business at 14:41